During all these events the Emperor constantly marched in the midst of the Guard, the cavalry commanded by the Duke of Istria, the infantry by the Duke of Dantxig. Our cavalry was so reduced that it Iwcame nceex«ary to form all the officers who were still mounted into four companies of 150 men each. Generals acted aa captaitt.s, and colonels as corporals. Thin Sacred Squadron, commanded by General Grouchy, and under the order. of the King of Naples, kept the closest watch over the Rmjjeror.

His Majesty's health ban never been better.

4th. There neemfl to be nothing of much importance about Spain in the Ifwu'tenr, The defence of the citadel of Burgos is a fine feat of armn. Ix>rd Wellington hait drawn back to operate against the army of Andalu«ia, If we low a battle there, affairs in that country would become critical.

(To Maret,) If you cannot make the. necessary com-miwvriat arrangements at Vilna, we rmwt prepare to evacuate everything, and first and foremost the military chest. We have three or four million* here, I am informed that there w twice a« much at VHna; have all removed to Danteig.
